About Us

Exceptional leaders not only attract the best talent but also foster a culture of growth and high performance, propelling your organisation towards accelerated success.

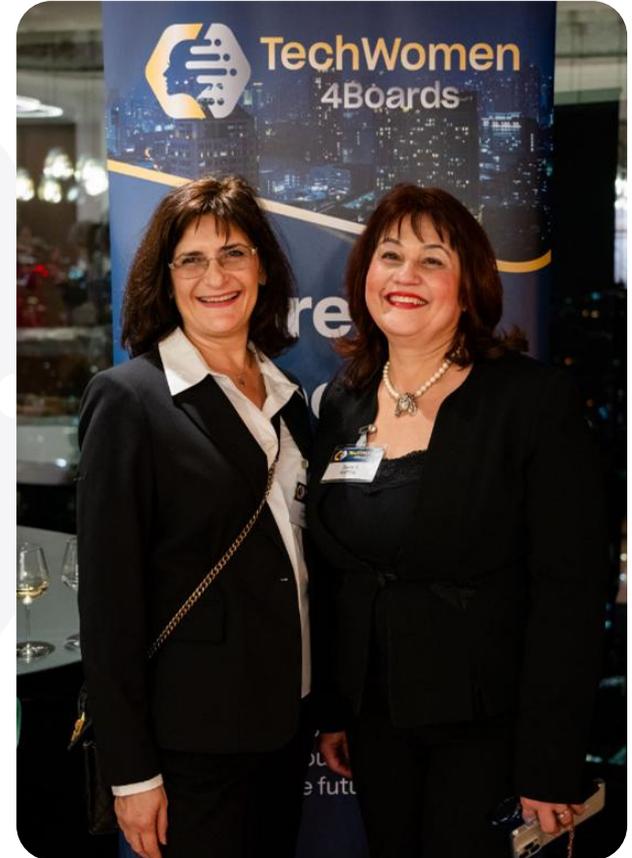

With many decades of expertise in executive leadership development, our programmes deliver specialised training, foster interactive discussions, and offer thought-provoking exercises, each crafted to overcome the unique obstacles encountered at various leadership stages from business owner to corporate executive.

Bringing Value to Communities

Our leadership offer (mentorships, workshops, events, networking, courses, speaking opportunities, job roles that cross borders, female business support as well as corporate executives) helping in the following areas:

- Enabling Women to unlock their full potential by gaining skills, knowledge and improving confidence to become great leaders!
- Create women leaders and build greater equity, diversity, and inclusion within your organisation
- Enhance women's resilience, mastering body language, harnessing the power of the voice to exert their influence
- Support women to learn to adapt the leadership style according to different business situations
- Build strategies using our versatile leadership toolkit designed for various objectives, helping leaders who can juggle these styles to achieve the best results
- Empower women in leadership, not only improves financial performance, but also boosts job satisfaction and organisational commitment across all genders

GALA DINNER

At the Caledonian Club, London

Tucked away in Belgravia, The Caledonian Club is a distinguished private members' club with a deep-rooted Scottish heritage. Established in 1891, it was originally located in St James's Square before moving to its current home in 1946 after its previous building was lost during the Blitz. While steeped in tradition, the club seamlessly blends heritage with modern comforts, offering members an elegant retreat complete with private function rooms and a library housing over 3,000 books. Beyond its striking Georgian architecture, the club thrives as a vibrant hub for networking, social events, and the celebration of Scottish culture.

Since launching TechWomen4Boards in 2024, we've witnessed an incredible growth in the community, support, and encouragement.

Our vision strives for equitable representation, where women's unique insights and leadership style contribute to balanced, forward-thinking governance. Supporting female business through investment, information sharing and advice/mentoring.

We focus on creating and disseminating opportunities for senior-level positions, breaking down barriers, and fostering a more inclusive and dynamic tech industry. We provide mentoring and leadership courses that are specifically designed to support the professional growth of capable women.

We're expanding that mission with the launch of our Talent Acquisition arm—an innovative and personalised approach to helping organisations fill crucial roles, particularly in tech and leadership, with a focus on diversity and inclusion.

Our approach is simple but powerful: we believe that the best teams are built on a foundation of diverse talent and perspectives. Yet, despite the clear benefits, too many companies are still struggling to bring in candidates from a range of backgrounds, particularly in senior and board-level positions.

We are honoured to be in the position to organise this valuable panel, inviting Key speakers, VIP guests, judges and awarding individuals, the positive changemakers in today's ever challenging world!

We are excited to be organising this event for you and deeply grateful to everyone supporting us on this journey. Your encouragement and participation make all the difference!

Our Sponsors and Supporters

Our events are strategically promoted to our members, network, and followers, attracting a dynamic mix of corporate executives, decision-makers, industry influencers, successful business owners, and ambitious students. These events serve as a powerful platform for networking, collaboration, and growth.

We are very grateful to Essex University for partnering with us for this event, the Caledonian Club's support and other companies/organisations involved in the past or present TechWomen4Boards activities.
